

THINKS Document Analysis – Primary Source

T (Target Audience) 1. Who was the target audience of this document? 2. Whose voice or perspective is not shared in this document?	H (Historical Context) 1. When was this document created and/or circulated? Who wrote it? 2. What events were occurring during the time this document was written?	I (Intended Purpose) 1. Why do you think this document was written? In other words, what is its purpose? 2. What specific elements of the text best convey the purpose of the document? Cite evidence.
N (New Vocabulary) 1. What words are new to you or need to be defined? <table border="1" data-bbox="109 989 477 1356"><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr></table>				K (Key Perspective) 1. Based on your reading of this document, what are some things that can be inferred about the author's perspective or point of view? 2. What do you know about people with the author's attributes during this time period? How could their circumstances impact their perspective?
S (Significance) 1. List two things or ideas that make this document historically significant. 2. Provide one quote from the document that demonstrates why it might be considered historically significant. Explain your reasoning.

THINKS Document Analysis – Secondary Source

T (Target Audience) 1. Who was the target audience of this document? 2. Whose voice or perspective is not shared in this document?	H (Historical Context) 1. When was this document created and/or circulated? Who wrote it? 2. What historical context does the author address in the document?	I (Intended Purpose) 1. Why do you think this document was written? In other words, what is its purpose? 2. What specific elements of the text best convey the purpose of the document? Cite evidence.
N (New Vocabulary) 1. What words are new to you or need to be defined? <table border="1" data-bbox="109 989 475 1356"><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr></table>				K (Key Perspective) 1. Based on your reading of this document, what are some things that can be inferred about the author's perspective or point of view? 2. What do you know about people with the author's attributes? How could their circumstances impact their perspective?
S (Significance) 1. List two things or ideas that make this research and/or historical claim historically significant. 2. Provide one quote from the document that demonstrates why it might be considered historically significant. Explain your reasoning.

THINKS Document Analysis – Multiple Sources

T (Target Audience) 1. Who was the target audience of these documents? 2. Whose voice or perspective is not shared in these documents?	H (Historical Context) 1. When were these documents created and/or circulated? Who wrote them? 2. What events were occurring during the time these documents were written?	I (Intended Purpose) 1. Why do you think these documents were written? 2. What specific elements of the texts best convey the purpose of the document? Cite evidence.
N (New Vocabulary) 1. What words are new to you or need to be defined? <table border="1" data-bbox="109 989 475 1356"><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr><tr><td> </td></tr></table>				K (Key Perspective) 1. Based on your reading of these documents, what are some things that can be inferred about the authors' perspectives? 2. What do you know about people with the authors' attributes during this time period? How could their circumstances impact their perspective?
S (Significance) 1. List two things or ideas that make these documents historically significant. 2. Provide one quote from each document that demonstrates why it might be considered historically significant. Explain your reasoning.

THINKS Document Analysis – Visual Source

T (Target Audience) 1. Who was the target audience of this document? 2. Whose voice or perspective is not shared in this document?	H (Historical Context) 1. When was this document created and/or circulated? Who created it? 2. What events were occurring during the time this document was created?	I (Intended Purpose) 1. Why do you think this document was created? In other words, what is its purpose? 2. What specific elements of the document convey the purpose of the document?
N (Notice) 1. Write down what you notice; that is, describe what you see.	K (Key Perspective) 1. Based on your understanding of this source, what are some things that can be inferred about the creator's perspective or point of view? 2. What do you know about people with the creator's attributes during this time period? How could their circumstances impact their perspective?
S (Significance) 1. List two things or ideas that make this document historically significant. 2. Provide one observation from the document that demonstrates why it might be considered historically significant. Explain your reasoning.

